The Visitation Reaction form (CD-85) and Supervised Visitation Checklist (CD-86) will be utilized whenever visitation continues to occur. The Visitation Reaction form should be utilized whenever a child involved with the Division is having visits with a parent regardless of whether the visits are supervised. The Supervised Visitation Checklist should be utilized as long as a court order for supervised visitation is in place, regardless of the case type or goal. The only exceptions to using the CD-85 are if there is a court order for no visitation or visits are not occurring.

The Checklist for Worker/Child Visits (CD-82) should be utilized in all FCOOHC cases as long as the case remains open. The CD-82 may be utilized in FCS cases but is not required. An example of when it may be appropriate to use this form would be if the child is in a voluntary placement.

The Parental Home Visit Checklist (CD-83) should be utilized in all FCS cases and in all FCOOHC cases where reunification remains the goal. Once an alternative goal has been established, the CD-83 may be utilized. Visits with parents should continue as long as the child is having visitation with the parent in the parent's home.

The Placement Provider Home Visit Checklist (CD-84) should be utilized in all FCOOHC cases. It may be utilized in FCS cases if the child is in a voluntary placement.
